A Message from our CEO and Board President

Dear Friends,

It is our honor to present the Center for Community Solutions 2021 Annual Impact Report, which provides key highlights of our activities and programs for the past fiscal year from July 1, 2020 to June 30, 2021. As you read the report, we hope you will gain a deeper understanding of the programs and services we provided to San Diego County residents affected by intimate partner violence, sexual assault, or stalking. This vital work would not be possible without the dedication and generosity of so many and for that, we are beyond grateful for your support.

Over the last year, we have witnessed the stunning resilience of our staff, volunteers, and brave survivors of relationship and sexual violence. Despite the immense challenges presented by the COVID-19 pandemic, our team has jumped into action to ensure a seamless transition to virtual services, and we have watched courageous survivors persevere in their journey of healing amid a global pandemic. We are honored to be an organization that has been a beacon of hope for so many during these difficult times.

CCS adapted our programs quickly and efficiently to continue providing essential services under changing public health orders. Our legal, counseling and advocacy teams transitioned to virtual appointments, our shelters introduced WiFi to help clients better function in an increasingly digital society, and our hotline staff remained busy assisting survivors while call volumes surged. Many of the innovative practices we have introduced this year have improved client satisfaction, and we’re happy to say they will continue even after COVID-19 restrictions are lifted.

Thank you for your support of Center for Community Solutions, and for making hope and healing possible for survivors of sexual and relationship violence.

Sincerely,

Verna Griffin-Tabor, CEO & Jessica Pride, Board President

Conquering the Digital Divide in Shelters

In 2020-2021, COVID-relief funds and individual donations provided survivors in our shelters with WiFi, access to laptops, and gift cards for cell phone data. WiFi was a critical key that gave survivors the ability to search for and apply for permanent safe housing and allowed children in the shelter to attend school remotely during the pandemic. WiFi also made it possible for survivors to continue their healing journeys by attending virtual counseling sessions, advocacy appointments, and legal consultations.

Shelter Services are provided through our two emergency shelters and two transitional shelter programs confidentially located in San Diego County. Shelters provide safe housing for adults and children escaping violence. All residents may choose to access a spectrum of wraparound services.

186 adults and children received 10,946 nights of safety

“There are no right words to explain our gratitude for all that you have done for us. Thank you is not enough.” —CCS Client
Stay-at-Home Orders Ironically Increased Danger for Some

As cases of relationship violence have surged worldwide during the pandemic, CCS experienced a record increase in intensity of hotline calls received in 2021. CCS advocates provided emotional support and safety planning for clients who were sheltering in place with an abusive partner. Despite a decrease in resources and the heightened severity of calls, our team continued providing our free and confidential 24-hour crisis intervention hotline and found ways to connect survivors with key resources amid a global pandemic. CCS hotline services offer assistance in multiple languages and accessibility options.

CCS staff and volunteers respond to calls coming in to our county-wide crisis hotline 24 hours a day.

Our hotline counselors provide trauma-informed safety planning and emotional support, expert navigation of county resources, and connection to supportive services.

Hotline counselors responded to 5,304 calls
Breakdown of FY 2021 Hotline Calls

- Domestic Violence: 56.7%
- Sexual Assault: 16.5%
- Other: 5%
- Elder abuse
- Human Trafficking
- Child-related
- Stalking
Continuing Legal Services Through the Court Shut Downs

When the courts shut down amid the COVID-19 pandemic, our staff provided remote access to our services to ensure our clients received holistic legal assistance and help with safety planning. This remote service was especially helpful to clients residing in rural areas, lacking access to transportation to CCS business offices, living with disabilities, or those unable to secure childcare to attend in-office consultations. Once the courts were capable of virtual hearings, our legal team instructed clients on how to engage with remote/virtual platforms, helped prepare them for virtual court hearings, and offered virtual court accompaniment, which provided emotional support and assistance to clients having to face their perpetrators.

CCS is the only Legal Team in San Diego County offering trauma-informed, no-cost, holistic, wrap-around services to survivors of sexual assault, intimate partner violence, and stalking.

When COVID-19 restrictions interrupted in-person services, our counseling team seamlessly transitioned to providing virtual appointments through video conferencing software in one week. Families that historically had a difficult time getting to the office for in-person services were able to engage in therapy consistently without having to sacrifice their income or other children's activities. In addition, the team of child advocates and therapists were able to integrate increased use of technology to keep child clients engaged in the therapeutic process.

Our Clinical Services Department is comprised of licensed and interning therapists who provide individual, group, family, and child counseling using research-based, best practice, trauma-informed approaches.

“My counselor was empathetic, knowledgeable, resourceful and professional. She was there for me in a time of need and was able to give me very useful tools to cope, heal & thrive in the future.” — CCS Client

437 adults and children received 3,765 counseling sessions
Child clients experienced 52.6% relief in self-reported trauma symptoms

The Pandemic’s Silver Lining for Trauma Counseling

When COVID-19 restrictions interrupted in-person services, our counseling team seamlessly transitioned to providing virtual appointments through video conferencing software in one week. In addition, the team of child advocates and therapists were able to integrate increased use of technology to keep child clients engaged in the therapeutic process.
Our Sexual Assault Services (SAS) are in three divisions: Sexual Assault Response Team (SART), Justice Advocacy, and Campus Advocacy Services. One of the busiest Rape Crisis Centers in California, CCS covers the majority of San Diego County, assisting walk-ins, referrals, and emergency room victims.

Sexual Assault Response Team

Our Sexual Assault Response Team shifted from in-person services during the pandemic to support sexual assault survivors during medical forensic exams over the phone.

- 418 clients
- 1,090 contacts
- 273 forensic exams

Justice Advocacy

Justice Advocates provide crisis intervention, counseling, information about the criminal justice process, accompaniment to prosecution-related events, assistance with resources, and referrals to other programs.

- 71% increase in understanding of criminal justice system

Campus Advocacy

Campus Advocacy Services provide sexual assault and intimate partner violence information, prevention outreach, survivor accompaniment, and education/training for college students, faculty, and staff.

- 5% of all SAS clients come from local colleges
Our Prevention Education Team tailored their programs to the specific needs of communities being served, and they also adapted to the societal shifts caused by the pandemic. CCS engages youth and adults in the communities we serve to be part of awareness and solutions in their neighborhoods. While it was not possible to teach in person, our educators kept the conversations going through virtual workshops for different age groups, in different languages, and on topics requested by community members.

CCS Crisis Intervention Training Continued Uninterrupted

This past fiscal year, nearly 40 staff, volunteers and community partners completed CCS Crisis Intervention Training, a 66.5-hour program that provides attendees with trauma-informed skills, knowledge, and tools to better serve and support those impacted by intimate partner violence, sexual assault, and stalking. Every staff member at CCS completes this training.

Despite the challenges associated with COVID-19, numerous dedicated volunteers continued to support CCS and survivors. Volunteer roles range from counseling trainees, advocates, and attorneys to outreach and prevention efforts at community events. Additionally, CCS is supported by the Board of Directors, Advisory Board, Hidden Valley House and Project Safehouse Auxiliaries, event volunteers, and development interns.

“Being a tiny part of someone’s healing journey is the best feeling I know. It’s everything.” –Lisa

One Hotline Volunteer: 700 Hours

Lisa has volunteered more than 3,500 lifetime hours to support survivors of relationship and sexual violence. In 2021 alone, she logged 700 hours and was part of a core team who were a critical lifeline to callers reaching out during the pandemic.

Lisa dedicates four days a week to answering our 24/7 Crisis Hotline, where she provides resources to survivors and connects them to services like counseling, emergency shelter and legal assistance. Sometimes, she is just a compassionate sounding board for someone who needs to talk.

Lisa also trains new volunteers and staff to support trauma survivors. She has made a difference in the lives of countless survivors over her eight years of volunteering, and says it has been “tremendously rewarding.”
